FARMING CLASSES RULES

- 1) All competitors must be members of The Aylsham Agricultural Show Association Limited.
- 2) The competition is open to occupiers of farms, the main homestead or 60% of the total land farmed being within the County of Norfolk.
- 3) This Booklet and the Entry Form are available to be downloaded from the Aylsham Show Website - www.theaylshamshow.co.uk
- 4) The following points will be considered by the judges:-
 - (a) Judges are asked to judge the farm as they see it on the day, having regard to standards of cropping and livestock husbandry. They should also take into account the suitability of the chosen farming system to the basic resources in land type(s), buildings and other features such as availability of irrigation.
 - (b) Judges will have the discretion to inspect selected fields from a map provided by the competitor.
 - (c) Entrants can expect to be questioned on their cropping and stocking policy.
 - (d) Entrants will also be questioned on the utilisation of full time, part time, pool or contract labour and their use of pool or co-operative machinery and equipment. It will be for the entrants to make out their case for their particular system of farming having regards to modern practice and the need to adopt the best possible farming system for profitable utilisation of the available resources.
 - (e) The judges will not ask to see and should not be shown, annual statutory accounts. These are regarded by the Association as both historical and personal to the entrants. Farm records may be requested by the judges as will cropping plan and livestock records, past and current, and management/budgetary information.
- 5) Any question of ineligibility of a competitor or any dispute arising out of the competition shall be dealt with by the committee, whose decision will be final.
- 6) Subject to the option hereafter mentioned, competitors shall have been in occupation of the land in their entry since the previous Michaelmas and all land occupied by them in conjunction with and under the same management as the main homestead of the farm named on the entry form shall be included, even if part of such land is not in the competition area. For the purpose of clarity where any farm or farms being part of a larger group in one ownership is clearly under the management of a separate professional farm manager, then the area managed may, at the discretion of the Committee, be accepted as a separate entry. Nevertheless, competitors may, at their option, elect to exclude from competition the whole of any extra land taken by them since the previous year, for a period of two years after entering upon such extra land, but must so declare at the first time of entering after taking such land. (Competitors, who have more than one farm in the competition area, shall as a condition of entry, but subject to the expectations set out above, show all the farms as one entry. Where the competitor occupies land outside the competition area, and such land forms an integral part of his farming undertaking, then all such land shall be shown as one holding. A competitor shall exhibit all his livestock whether on the holding or on other grazing land or agisted).
- 7) The judges shall award a first and second place from each farming class. The two first places from each class will then be judged against one another to determine the overall champion.
- 8) The Challenge Cups in all classes are Perpetual.
- 9) The judges will be appointed by the Committee and will at their discretion, make one or more inspections, according to a programme to be drawn up by the Committee, not before the first day of judging.
- 10) If sufficient or insufficient entries are received the Committee reserve the right to amend or alter the Classes or to arrange for pre-selection prior to the first day of judging.
- 11) The first place in each class will automatically qualify for the Championship Class. This will be judged on the last day of judging once the first place winners have been agreed.
